

Veterans' Memorial Building Annex Construction Okeyed

Federal clearance for the construction of an annex to the Washington Township Veterans Memorial Building at Niles has been received by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors and construction is to get under way within 60 days.

The Board of Supervisors approved plans for the annex last year and included $60,000 in their 1950-51 budget to cover the cost of construction.

However, federal restrictions which were clamped on many types of construction at the outbreak of fighting in Korea, halted the plans for the annex.

MONEY AVAILABLE

According to Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, the county board filed a claim for an exemption from the government order on May 8 and received clearance from the federal government last Friday.

Stanley stated that the $60,000 budgeted by the board last year is still available and that bids for the construction of the annex will be called immediately.

The plans and specifications have been drawn up and approved by the firm of Ponsford and Price, Oakland architects.

The present Memorial Building was formally dedicated on Memorial Day of 1930.

SEVERAL ROOMS IN ANNEX

The original building is "L" shaped and the annex will be constructed in what is now the patio, connecting with the main portion of the building.

The plans call for a 45x45-foot dining hall, a 20x30-foot women's auxiliary meeting room, rest rooms, a small club room and renovation of the present kitchen.

LOCAL WATER LEVEL SHOWS MARKED RISE

That the local underground water level has benefitted by this year's continued flow in Alameda Creek is being evidenced by well measurements of the Citizens Utilities Company, serving water in the Niles-Decoto area.

Manager Clifford K. Dennis reports that the company's well on First Street near the underpass measured 23 feet to water on June 25, whereas last year on the same date the water level was at 39 feet. This year the company has increased its pumping by 10 per cent, and the higher water level has resulted in a 7 1/2 per cent saving in power costs.

"The fact that this year's flow in Alameda Creek has had such a beneficial effect," Dennis states, "is sound evidence of the need for bringing Delta Mendota water into the Alameda Creek watershed to assure continued flow in the creek and guarantee water in years of insufficient rainfall."

WARNING ISSUED ON EMPLOYING MINORS

Officials of the California State Farm Labor office at Centerville this week warned local farmers not to employ minors in the coming apricot harvest unless the youngsters have work permits.

The permits may be obtained at Washington Union High School.

MASONIC LODGE HONORS 2 LOCAL 50-YEAR MEMBERS

Two Washington Township men (Arthur T. Biddle of Newark and Henry Patterson of Centerville), at a dinner in their honor Wednesday evening became the third and fourth members of Alameda Lodge 167, F. & A. M., to receive the 50-year buttons since the lodge was founded here more than 75 years ago.

Both men joined the local Masonic Lodge at the turn of the century and have served in the various offices of that organization since that time.

Patterson worked up through the offices of the lodge but was unable to take the office of master because of a trip to Europe during the year that he was slated to serve as head of the local lodge.

HELP ALL OFFICES

Biddle has held all the offices in the lodge, serving as an officer for 42 years, 22 consecutive years as secretary. He is the only surviving member of the original Masonic Hall Association of seven men who had charge of the building of the hall. In addition to the local offices, he is past high priest of Royal Arch No. 66 of San Leandro and past grand patron of the Order of Eastern Star of California.

The 50-year buttons were presented to the two men by Grand Secretary Lloyd E. Wilson of San Francisco, who paid special tribute to the men for their service during the past years.

120 PRESENT

Biddle was also presented with a Masonic ring by the members of the board of directors of the Masonic Hall Association. The presentation was made by Dr. E. M. Grimmer of Irvington.

The meeting was presided over by Richard A. Jolly of Oakland, master of the local lodge. One hundred and twenty members of lodges throughout the bay area attended the dinner and enjoyed the evening of musical entertainment which followed the ceremony.

MAIL MESSENGER NEEDED AT NEWARK

Mrs. Julia Harris, postmaster at Newark, announced this week that sealed bids will be accepted until July 2 for the position of mail messenger at that post office.

In announcing the call for bidders, Mrs. Harris revealed that Joseph L. Martin, mail messenger there for the past 20 years, will retire on June 31.

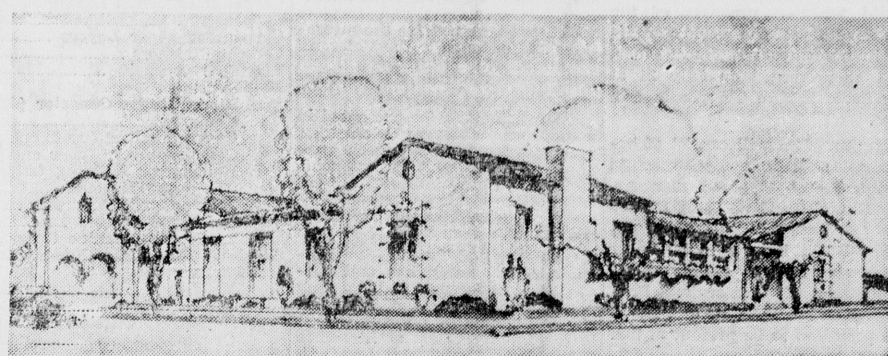

Mrs. Harris said that the messenger's duties consist of meeting the highway post office at Centerville and taking the mail to Newark and delivering the mail from the Southern Pacific depot to the post office.

The mail messenger works six days a week and the bid, according to Mrs. Harris, should be high enough to take care of the salary and auto expenses.

NEWARK MARINE HOME FROM KOREA

Sergeant Robert Lloyd of Newark, believed to be the first township reservist recalled to active duty with the U. S. Marine Corps at the outbreak of the war in Korea, arrived in San Diego from Korea on Wednesday. Waiting at the dock to meet him was his wife, the former Lillian Pool.

Sergeant Lloyd, a veteran of World War II, was recalled to active duty last July 22 and on September 10 he landed in Korea. Since that time he has been in the heaviest fighting with the First Marine Division.

DRAINAGE PROBLEM BALKS 6,000 HOME UNIT NEAR DECOTO

The final decision on the opening of a 6,000 home tract between Decoto and Hayward has been continued until the Tuesday, July 10, meeting of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors.

Six major housing development companies had previously sought clearance from the county to open the gigantic subdivision but had been blocked by failure to provide adequate facilities to prevent damage to adjacent properties by the run-off storm waters.

COUNTY OFFERED LOAN

Two weeks ago the companies announced to the supervisors that they would loan the county $300,000 to construct a large canal to carry the water from the Niles-Hayward Highway to San Francisco Bay.

The Board of Supervisors was advised by the district attorney's office that there was no provision whereby such a loan could be repaid.

The supervisors countered with a proposal that the companies pay outright for the construction of the $300,000 canal and the county would secure the rights-of-way and build the necessary spans over the canal.

ASK TAX EXEMPTION

At Tuesday's meeting the firms offered to finance $300,000 of the project but stipulated that their housing unit be exempted from future taxes for flood control.

Douglas Dunning, chief legal advisor for the Supervisors, ruled that it would be impossible for the county to exempt a portion of a district from paying taxes within that district.

The company representatives were asked to reconsider the Supervisor's original stipulation and resubmit their plans at the meeting on July 10.

PADRES NEEDED FOR MISSION PAGEANT

"Is there anyone in the township who thinks he would make a good padre?"

This is the question posed by Mrs. Roland Bendel this week, who, as chairman of the Washington Township Historical Society, is seeking five township gentlemen to play the parts of padres in Hayward's Diamond Jubilee Pageant, July 19, 20 and 21.

The historical society of Hayward has invited the Washington Township Historical Society to supply the personnel for the first episode of the pageant, which will be the founding of the Mission at Mission San Jose.

Those who would like to try out for the parts are invited to be at the visual-education room at Washington High tonight (Friday) and Friday, July 6, for rehearsals. The Hayward director will be present on both these dates. The time for rehearsal has been set for 8 o'clock.

IRVINGTON-CENTERVILLE CHAMBERS BAND TOGETHER

The members of the Chambers of Commerce of Irvington and Centerville will combine forces on Sunday, August 5, for an Irvington-Centerville Day at the Old Hearst Ranch in Pleasanton.

At their meeting this week the two Chambers voted to attend the breakfast and radio broadcast at the popular dude ranch together to assure a sizeable representation from this area.

STORK OUTRACES LOCAL AMBULANCE

Bernie Vail, operator of the Township Ambulance at Centerville, won second place in a two-way race with the stork Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hersha of Newark stopped at the Vail home in Centerville enroute to the hospital in San Jose and informed Vail that time was running short and they felt the speed of the ambulance was necessary.

The transfer to the ambulance was completed and the race renewed.

As the ambulance passed through Irvington at a 70-mile-an-hour clip, Mrs. Hersha gave birth to a six-pound daughter, with her husband as the only attendant.

Mother and daughter are reported "doing nicely" at Community Hospital in San Jose.

AUTO-BICYCLE CRASH FATAL TO JOSEPH CARDENAS

Joseph Felipe Cardenas, 65, of Niles died yesterday in a San Jose hospital from injuries suffered early Tuesday morning when he was struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle across the Oakland-San Jose highway at Niles.

The accident occurred approximately 100 feet south of the intersection of the highway and the Niles Canyon road.

According to witnesses and Lloyd Gordon, 52, of Decoto, driver of the car, Cardenas swerved his bicycle to avoid hitting a dog and rode directly into the path of the southbound machine.

He was rushed to Fairmont Hospital in the Township Ambulance and later transferred to San Jose Community Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from a skull fracture and a broken leg.

He was the husband of the late Matilda Cardenas; father of Henry Cardenas, Oakland; Joseph Cardenas, Hayward; Tickle Lopez, Newark; Margaret Rodriguez, Santa Clara; Lupe Rodarte and Catherine Marin, both of Niles; and Thomas Cardenas, U.S. Army. He was the brother of Lupe Viscarra of Decoto.

He was a native of Mexico but had resided here most of his life. He was employed by the Silva Brothers Building Materials Co.

A rosary will be recited at the parlors of the Berge Mortuary Company in Niles at 8 p.m. Friday.

Services will be held from the parlors of the mortuary at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, followed by a requiem mass at Corpus Christi Church at 9 a.m. Interment will be at Holy Ghost Cemetery, Centerville.

NILES CHAMBER PROTESTS APPEARANCE OF PARK

A protest of the appearance of the George C. Roeding Park along the San Jose-Oakland Highway at Niles was forwarded this week by the Niles Chamber of Commerce to the State Division of Highways.

The park, dedicated to the memory of the late George C. Roeding, pioneer nurseryman, is covered with high weeds, constituting a fire hazard, the Chamber's letter reported.

Secretary Vernon Ellsworth was also instructed to write to the directors of the Alameda County Water district to inquire if they had applied for water for this area from the new Central Valley Project.

UNINCORPORATED AREAS WIN DELAY IN STATE SENATE

Protests by the unincorporated areas and the County Supervisors' Association have resulted in temporarily blocking the passage of Assembly Bill No. 3217, which would alter the county form of government.

The bill, which would make it mandatory for urban areas to either incorporate or form multiple "municipal type" districts, passed the State Assembly last week.

SURVEY NECESSARY

Local Chambers of Commerce joined leaders from other unincorporated sections of the state in protesting the passage of the bill in the Senate.

The opposition to the bill won a ruling in the Senate this week that it be turned over to the Interim Committee for study, which results in a delay of two years for surveys and possible revision of the original bill.

Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, who vigorously opposed the passage of the bill, said this week, "The local people who objected, and made their objections known in Sacramento, are responsible on a good part to the delay, which we feel sure will prove beneficial to this county."

WOULD MEAN TAX BOOST

The bill stated that any area having a minimum density of population of 300 persons per square mile must form some type of district and through taxation within that district provide for all the "municipal type services."

Listed as "municipal type services" in the bill were: Police, fire, playgrounds and parks, sewer, streets, and "all other similar types service."

HISTORICAL GROUP WILL GO ON TOUR

Wednesday, July 18, will be a red-letter day for members of the Washington Township Historical Society, which, even though it is still in its infancy, has been extremely active and very successful in its research and historical findings.

Perhaps the most interesting program since the Society's inception will be that scheduled for the above date. At that time the members will motor down to San Juan Bautista Mission for an all-day excursion. This will mark the first time the group has gone "on tour," and the members are looking forward with great anticipation to the trip.

Mrs. Roland Bendel, chairman of the Society, remarked this week, "Normally the meeting date of the Society would fall on July 19, but because that is the opening night of the Diamond Jubilee pageant in Hayward—in which several Society members will take part—the date has been advanced one day. The trip to San Juan Bautista will serve as a regular quarterly meeting date."

Reservations for transportation and the luncheon for the excursion should be made with Mrs. Henry May of Decoto, according to Mrs. Bendel.

CLARENCE AMARAL INJURED IN FALL

Clarence Amaral of Mission San Jose was injured Tuesday at the James Graham Manufacturing Co. plant in Newark when he fell through a skylight while working on the roof. He was taken to San Jose Hospital for treatment.

Township May Retain Two Justice Courts

An enabling act which would make possible the continuance of two part time judges in Washington Township was this week passed by the Assembly and Senate in Sacramento and is now on Governor Earl Warren's desk for signature.

Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, who had the bill introduced, said yesterday that Washington Township is the only court district in the state in which the legislation will effect the incumbency of the present judges.

The bill allows the supervisors to determine how many judges shall serve in any Justice Court district.

If the bill becomes law the Supervisors could, at their discretion, rule that two part time judges be retained, instead of the present ruling that only one judge serve this district after January 1, 1953.

Stanley stated that the bill was backed by all of the legislators representing this county.

He urged all township Chambers of Commerce and civic leaders to send letters to Governor Warren immediately urging him to sign the bill into law.

SCOUTS' ATTEMPT TO 'LIVE OFF THE LAND' BACKFIRES

A "live off the land" hike of 24 hours duration more closely resembled a hunger strike for seven members of the Irvington Boy Scout Troop at their week's encampment at Diamond-O Scout Camp in the Sierras last week.

The seven Scouts, accompanied by one of their leaders, Gus Robertson, left the main camp at noon one day bent on foraging their own food from the wild country during the next 24 hours.

The bill of fare for the seven hungry Scouts and one Scouter for the 24-hour period consisted of four small fish, caught by the Scouter.

The Scouts spending the week at the camp were John Adams, Wylie Blacow, Gerald Harvey, Bob Espinoza, Reuben Espinoza, Don Lynne, Don Leach, Roy Lomas, Monica Paler, Bryce Phillips, Calvin Robertson, Eddie Sylvia, Ronnie Sylvia, Kenneth Tuttle, and Joe Castro Jr. Scouters accompanying the group were Wallace Pond, Gus Robertson and Bryce Phillips.

The transportation was provided by Mrs. Charles Brewer, Mrs. Belmeda Sylvia, Gus Robertson, Bryce Phillips, Joe Castro, Wallace Pond and Mosco Pennington.

This year's trip marked the first time that the Irvington Scouts have attended the camp as a unit.

The trip was financed for the most part by funds raised by the Scouts on various work projects.

IRVINGTON Y.L.I. SEATS OFFICERS

Newly elected officers of St. Jude's Institute, Y.L.I., of Irvington were installed at ceremonies held Tuesday evening at the I.O. O.F. Hall there.

The new officers are: Genevieve Freitas, president; Antoinette Pimentel, first vice-president; Gene Lewis, second vice-president; Gertrude Dutra, past president; Ann Perry, recording secretary; Mary Freitas, financial secretary; Pearl Guardanapo, treasurer; Ellen Freitas, inside sentinel; Annie Zavatero, outside sentinel; Margaret Williams, organist; and Isabel Vargas, Bertha Rose, Ruth Shiffar, Isabel Silva and Rose Marshall, directors.

The officers were installed by Ruth Jurgens, institute deputy, of San Leandro.

Beatrice Enos was in charge of the arrangements and refreshments were served by Gertrude Dutra.

DECOTO MAN HURT

John Cease of Decoto suffered severe injuries in a highway crash near the Zwissig Dairy on the Niles-Hayward Highway Tuesday evening. Cease's auto collided with another which had stopped along the roadway.

California's second biggest county exposition, the Alameda County Fair, opens for a 16-day run in Pleasanton today (Friday).

Exhibitors from throughout the state will vie for more than $50,000 in premium money. Housewives dominate the huge entry roster with 2,432 homemaking articles. More than 2,000 rabbits, chickens and pigeons are waiting to be judged for blue ribbons.

Over 700 head of cattle, representing top herds from 23 California counties, will go on parade in a display of livestock valued at more than $1,500,000.

Premiums will also be awarded in the 4-H, Future Farmer, floriculture, horticulture, agriculture art and photography, veterans rehabilitation and other departments.

An added feature this year will be a colorful parade through the business section of Pleasanton this Sunday beginning at 10:30 a.m. Colorful units and organizations from 53 California cities will participate.

The annual horse show will be staged at the fair grounds Sunday afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock.

14 DAYS OF RACING

Sunday, July 8, is billed as Washington Township Day at the fair and representatives of the local Chambers of Commerce will be in charge of the Alameda County Associated Chambers of Commerce display booth.

Feature events of the fair include 14 days of horse racing, under the direction of William P. Kyne, free entertainment and music each afternoon and evening highlighting Scotty Weston's "Cavalcade of Stars," picnics, and all-western review July 4 at 8 p.m.

HOUSE NUMBERING PROJECT AT IRVINGTON

A project calling for the renumbering of all homes in Irvington has been launched by the Irvington Chamber of Commerce.

Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, in reply to a letter from the Chamber asking what procedure should be followed, announced this week that he was turning the matter over to the Alameda County Planning Commission for action.

SOIL CONSERVATION GROUPS COMBINED

As a further step in consolidating the soil and water conservation efforts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Fred Lewis, Centerville, chairman of the Alameda County Production and Marketing Administration, says that arrangements are being made for the Soil Conservation Service to be responsible for the technical phases of the practices of the Agricultural Conservation Program.

"This consolidation of conservation work is a forward step in building better farms in Alameda County," Lewis said this week. He stated that the arrangement would be for such practices as leveling, constructing dams, laying out drainage ditches, reorganizing the farm irrigation system and a number of other erosion control practices.

The technical services needed will be provided either by SCS personnel or by the PMA fieldman, Matt Whitfield, under SCS direction, Lewis said. He urged farmers of this county who are cooperating in the ACP and who intend to carry out soil and water conservation practices requiring technical assistance to make arrangements for such assistance early to avoid delay and to give the county PMA committee an opportunity to make the best use of this technical service.

Lewis said that the Soil Conservation Service's responsibility includes checking the need for the practices, location, layout, and necessary supervision in construction and determining if the practices have been carried out in accordance with requirements to qualify for assistance under the conservation program. Arrangements for this service should be made with the county PMA committee at 170 Castro Street, Hayward.

MELFORD ALAMEDA, WED LAST SUNDAY, HAS TO REPORT FOR OVERSEAS DUTY

"The wedding couldn't have been any more beautiful if it had been planned for weeks," was the consensus of those who attended the McClain-Alameda nuptials last Sunday at 4 o'clock at the Centerville Presbyterian Church.

Actually, plans for it were made overnight, for Melford Alameda arrived home on Wednesday, and he and Lorraine McClain decided then to make the trip to the altar, before his departure for overseas next week. So the G. G. McClains and the A. E. Alamedas combined forces and rushed through plans for the wedding, which turned out to be a triple celebration, as the bridegroom's father, and Irving Alameda's father-in-law, Mr. Wes Emory, were both observing birthdays.

The altar at the beautiful little Centerville church was banked with arrangements of Beacon gladioli (arranged by Mrs. Allan Walton) which were the same persimmon shade as the bride's silk shantung suit. A black velvet hat, and a white orchid corsage completed her costume.

Mrs. Irving Alameda, the bride's only attendant, was attired in a navy suit. With it she wore a white hat and a red rose corsage.

Mrs. Alameda, the bridegroom's mother, chose a chartreuse dress for her son's wedding, and with it wore navy accessories and a red rose corsage.

Mrs. G. G. McClain, the bride's mother, was in a print dress, with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

Irving Alameda did best man honors for his brother. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Howard Steward, and wedding music was played by Barbara Smyrl, at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Alameda home, where the guests—close friends and relatives of the pair—gathered in the patio. The wedding cake was served from a table which was highlighted by a

DOLORES SA-ANTHONY HOMEN NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED AT AN ALL-WHITE WEDDING

An all-white wedding characterized the Dolores Sa-Anthony Homen nuptials at the Holy Ghost Church in Centerville last Sunday, with the bride walking down the aisle in a fashionable white taffeta gown, with a lace and net overlay. Her finger-tip veil, edged with the same lace that trimmed the gown, was held in place with a net crown. She carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and white orchids, with a prayer book. Father Curran officiated at the ceremony, which was performed before an altar banked with white gladioli and lilies.

Preceding her down the aisle were her attendants, all attired in white net and taffeta frocks, carrying bouquets of red carnations and red stephanotis. Marlene Jarvis of Oakland was the honor attendant, and Gerry Homen, Jane Novo, and Shirley Mello were the bridesmaids. Debbie McNieve, also dressed in white taffeta, was the flower girl.

Mrs. Arthur Sa, the bride's mother, selected a gray crepe gown, with purple hat and gray accessories for the wedding. Her gray fur neckpiece was fastened with an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Manuel Homen, the bridegroom's mother, was in a rose taffeta and lace gown, with rose hat. She, too, wore an orchid.

Standing up as best man was John Espinosa, and performing ushering duties were John Cordeniz, Ray Souza, and Joe Perry. After the double-ring ceremony, a reception was held at the Country Club at Centerville, where the happy young pair received the felicitations of their many friends. Catching the bridal bouquet was Marlene Jarvis, while Eddie Perry, one of the guests, triumphantly claimed the blue garter.

For her going-away costume the new Mrs. Homen wore a purple and beige two-piece linen dress, with beige hat, purple gloves, and cocoa shoes and bag.

After a honeymoon in Southern California, the newlyweds will return to Centerville to take up residence in one of the Alameda apartments.

Horat-George Nuptials Tomorrow

Lena Ann Horat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horat of Centerville, and Clayton George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank George of Niles, have a date for this Saturday that will lead them altarwards at the Holy Ghost Church in Centerville, at 7 o'clock.

Elsie Horat will be her sister's maid of honor, and the other attendant will be Mrs. Melvin Oliver. Patty Jean Bristol of Centerville will act as flower girl.

Edward Freitas of Hayward, a cousin of the groom, will act as best man. Ushers will be Melvin Oliver, Aniceto Roche, and John Rodrigues.

Following the wedding a reception will be held at the Country Club in Centerville.

The bride-elect was graduated from Washington High two years ago. Clayton, also a graduate of Washington High, received training and was graduated from Aero Tech in Oakland. He is now in the poultry business in Niles, where the couple plans to make their home.

Local Pair Observe Silver Anniversary

A mock wedding ceremony with Henry Vervais as the blushing bride and Howard Mohn as the recalcitrant groom was the highlight of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mohn.

The guests, assembled in the Mohn patio at their home on G Street, Niles, toasted the mock bride and groom—who were gowned in a long satin gown and tuxedo respectively (with the bride carrying a bouquet of wilted carrots and turnips and the groom, handsome with a boutonnieres of hydrangeas)—and then the toasts were drunk to the real celebrants, who were given a money tree of silver dollars, and many other handsome silver gifts.

Those invited included: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mohn, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mohn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vervais (who were celebrating their seventeenth anniversary on the same day), Mr. and Mrs. Alex De Knoop, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kirkbride and daughter, Marilyn; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams, Mrs. Julia Honeysett, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Facey, Mr. and Mrs. Al Vieux, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Batman, Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Robinson, Milton Mohn, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gorman, Mrs. Rose Vieux and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson.

Home on Leave

Don Hibner arrived home in Niles on June 20 for a ten-day leave. He has just been graduated from Engineer's School at his training base at Coronado and when he returns will take up amphibious training. Mrs. Hibner planned down to Coronado and she and her son returned home together, after she had spent a week vacationing.

Move to Centerville

New residents in Centerville this week are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Neilson, who moved from Alameda into their new home on Fremont avenue in the Centerville Acres Tract. Mr. Neilson is the owner of the Neilson Hardware Store on North Main Street.

Fred Duffie Jr. and Bride Return from Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoyt Duffie Jr. have returned from their honeymoon at Carmel and Santa Cruz to their home in Hayward. The couple was married at a recent ceremony performed at the First Methodist Church in San Leandro.

For her wedding, the bride chose the traditional white satin gown, and carried a bouquet of bouvardia and white orchids. Her attendants were Cora Lee Banta, maid of honor, and Mary Richardson, Mary Giddich and Barbara Fink. They were attired in pastel organdy frocks.

The best man and ushers were all Delta Sigma Phi fraternity brothers of the bridegroom at the University of California: Ron Parker of Hollywood, best man, and Steve Hackett of Sacramento, Ray Ollson of Concord, and Dave Gilbert of Healdsburg.

Mrs. Rodney Thomas, the bride's mother, selected a dusty rose lace gown with powder blue accessories for her daughter's wedding; while Mrs. Duffie, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy blue organdy and lace with white accessories.

A reception, following the ceremony, was held in the terraced garden of Dr. and Mrs. Jack T. Hobson of Hayward.

The benedict is well known in Niles, having been a resident here through all of his elementary and high school years. He was a popular athlete at Washington High. He attended the University of California until he left college and took a position at Frieden's in San Leandro.

KLEINMEN TAKE SOFTBALL LEAD

The powerful Kleine team continued to hold the top spot in the Township Softball League this week by dumping Y.M.I., their co-holders of the first-place spot.

In the double-header last Friday, Y.M.I. added their fourth victory of the season by outscoring Frick's 5 to 1 and Wedgewood held American Forge in the second division by virtue of a 9 to 5 win.

Monday evening Kleine's scored a 5-0 shut-out at the expense of Ray's Market and L & V added to American Forge line of losses by trouncing them 11 to 2.

The battle for first place between Kleine and Y.M.I. resulted in an 8 to 2 victory for the Kleinemen in the curtain-raiser and Wedgewood dumped Ray's Market 6 to 3 in the nightcap.

Following tonight's double header, the league play will be suspended for one week. Play will resume on Monday, July 9.

HURT PLAYING BALL

James Hawley of Alameda was painfully injured Sunday afternoon while playing softball at a company picnic at Linda Vista Park at Mission San Jose. He suffered a dislocated shoulder. He was taken to Fairmont Hospital in the Township Ambulance and later transferred to the V. A. Hospital in Oakland.

BEARCATS FOXED BY SAN JOSE ACE

The Centerville Bearcats stirred up a breeze around the high school baseball diamond last Sunday, swinging their hickory sticks at the elusive pitches of Oldhin, ace hurler for the Weiland Brewery club of San Jose.

Sixteen of the Centerville lads were retired via the strike-out route during the game by Oldhin, who allowed but five hits and gave six charity bases on balls.

Stan Roderick and Ed Rose were the only two men on the Centerville club to get hits, Stan getting a double and a single and Ed banging out a double and two singles.

The game was tied 5-all going into the eighth inning but the visitors shoved over one run in the eighth and added two more in the final frame.

Harvey Hernandez of Decoto drew the mound duties for the Cats and allowed 12 hits, gave up 7 walks and collected four strike-outs.

This Sunday at 2 p.m. the Bearcats will play the U. S. Marines team from San Francisco on the high school diamond at Centerville.

WIFE GOES TO AN EDITORS' CONFERENCE

"We ought to go over to the Editors' Conference at Stanford," said my husband, "we'd get a lot of new ideas, and it would be very stimulating."

"I think that's a splendid idea," I agreed. "Then I could get a new dress."

So we went.

When we got over to Stanford my husband said he'd better sit in on the discussion panels and listen to the speeches. So I said if that was the way he wanted to spend his time it was all right with me, but personally I'd rather walk around Palo Alto and look in the store windows, until the really important things got under way like President and Mrs. Wallace Sterling's reception for the editors that afternoon at their campus home.

Right after Mrs. Sterling greeted us at the door—which is the home where former President Hoover lived—I decided that editors' conferences are very worthwhile. You should have seen the hors d'oeuvres! As clam and cream cheese dip is my favorite, I hovered over it. While I was munching, I made a casual remark to a big, handsome man who was standing next to me. "This clam and cheese dip is good," I said, "but personally, I think it's better with a little garlic. It's too bland this way."

He looked at me curiously, nodded vaguely, and moved away. "Who is that man?" I asked someone. "The one who looks like a football player."

"That," said my informant, "is President Wallace Sterling."

I made no more remarks about the clam-cheese dip. As a matter of fact, it somehow lost its appeal, and I veered over to the smoked-fish on rye bread which was heavenly. I collected several of these little sandwiches and a glass of punch, and made my way up to the roof—the same roof where Hoover made his acceptance speech, when he learned he had been elected. Standing there in that historic spot, looking down, I began to feel very sentimental about Mr. Hoover, and the tears rolled down my cheeks. My husband came up just then and said, "Good Lord, what's in that punch you're drinking? Mine's just plain."

"It isn't the punch," I said, dabbing my eyes. "It's poor Mr. Hoover."

My husband took me by the elbow. "Come on," he said, "I'll get you a cheese-on-rye or something. Then you'll feel better."

I had a cheese on rye and a broiled mushroom on a toothpick, and I felt lots better.

Then we went to dinner.

The food was very good. We had roast beef, which I hadn't seen for a long time. People kept making speeches which I didn't hear, because, after all, when you have roast beef I think it deserves your whole attention.

After dinner we went to a champagne party at a very swank home in Crescent Park. The host owns a chain of newspapers.

We were escorted to an enormous and beautiful patio by our very gracious hostess, and the first thing you know I had a glass of champagne in one hand, and a caviar canape in the other. I took a few sips of champagne and, looking up, discovered that colored bubbles were floating all around the air.

I hated to ask anyone else about this phenomenon, so I cornered one of the maids. "Look," I said, "there's something funny about this champagne. The bubbles aren't staying in the glasses. They're floating around in the air." (I thought, if she gives me one of those pitying looks I'm going to report her.)

She didn't. She said, "There ARE bubbles, Madam, but they're not coming from the champagne. There's a bubble-making machine behind that potted plant."

"They're beautiful!" I sighed ecstatically. "Hollywood was never like this." So I walked over to a long table where all sorts of delicacies reposed, and I took a little sausage wrapped in bacon, then a little sausage encased in a biscuit, then a little sausage in cheese, then a fish ball dipped in some kind of heavenly sauce, and I stood there watching the beautiful perfumed, colored bubbles float by and sipped champagne, and when someone said to me, "Where IS Niles, anyhow?" I just said blankly, "It seems to me I've heard of it—"

The next morning my husband said he'd attend the morning sessions of the conference. I said it seemed too bad to have to kill time that way, but that I'd meet him for lunch.

At lunch we had a fine speaker—everybody said—but you should have tasted that fried chicken!

After lunch, my husband attended some more sessions and I said I'd just spend the time getting ready for the cocktail party which the editors were invited to.

The cocktail party was held in the terraced gardens of a very beautiful home in Palo Alto. I took some celery sticks, some olives, some carrot sticks, and a mushroom canape, and sat down by the swimming pool.

Everybody was friendly. Occasionally someone would come up, though, and ask such questions as, "How's your circulation?" I thought it was a silly approach but I was determined to be friendly, just like everybody else, so I said that sometimes my feet were cold in the mornings and that my hands were always cold, so I guessed my circulation wasn't so good. He looked at me kind of queerly and left. I felt hurt.

Then a lady came up and opened the conversation with, "How do you handle suicides?"

I was alarmed, so I got her aside and said would she like a drink and had she tried the carrot sticks, that they were dipped in some kind of delicious garlic marinade.

I said everybody gets despondent occasionally but if you bear up through your present troubles, everything will blow over. "Get suicide out of your mind," I said profoundly, "what ever it is you're worried about will be all right tomorrow."

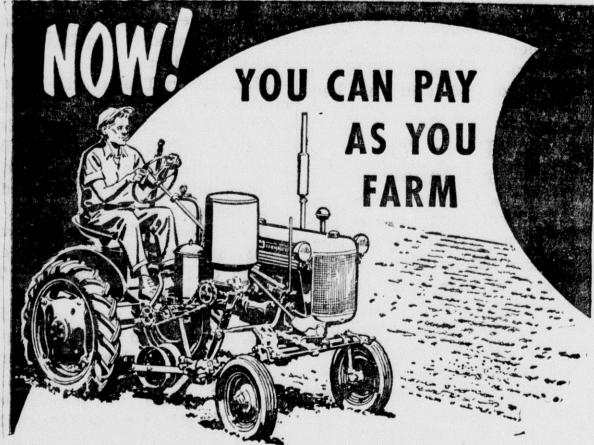

She gave me a very funny look which words can't describe and rushed away.

On the way home that afternoon I said to my husband, "Some of those newspaper people are queer, aren't they?"

He disagreed. "I don't think so. They're just absorbed in their profession is all. I think the conference was very stimulating."

"Oh, I do too!" I agreed. "One can gain so much by attending one of those things."

He looked at me from head to toe, and said, with a sort of enigmatic smile, "Yes, I can see that."

TILE DEALERS TOLD NO CUTBACK LIKELY

No severe or prolonged curtailment of the clay products supply for non-defense construction appears likely, northern California patio tile dealers were told Tuesday by C. W. Kraft, president of Krafttile Company of Niles, at their annual luncheon meeting held at the International Kitchen, Niles.

Kraft, citing his own firm's expansion program as an example, credited the industry's ability to meet the demands of defense construction without a complete cut-off of civilian supply to the steadily-increasing productive capacity of major western clay products plants.

Following the luncheon and business meeting the tile dealers made a tour of the Krafttile plant, inspecting the new facilities installed as part of a 5-year expansion program which, upon completion, will double the plant's output of glazed wall units, patio tile and specialty brick.

SERVICES MONDAY FOR DELMIRO SOUZA

Funeral services were held in Irvington on Monday for Delmiro Souza, 62, local rancher who presumably took his own life at his home on Niles-Mission San Jose Highway last Friday.

His body was found on the front steps of his home about 5:30 p.m. by his son-in-law, Vernon Nunes of Irvington. Deputy Coroner Tom Berge estimated that Souza had been dead about two hours. He died from loss of blood from a deep gash on the inside of the left elbow. A blood-stained razor blade was found beside the body.

He was a native of the Azores Islands but had resided here for 30 years. He was a member of I.D.E.S. Council No. 1 of Mission San Jose.

He was the husband of Zelmira Souza; father of Lillian Souza, Mrs. Vernon Nunes, John Souza and Mrs. Clarence Harvey, all of Irvington, Mrs. Clarence Perry, Warm Springs, and Tony and Joseph Souza, both of Mission San Jose.

Burial was at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

Services were held at the parlors of the Andker-Peterson Mortuary in Oakland under the auspices of the Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter No. 8, Oakland, of which she was a past matron.

Closing services were at the Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland.
